

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry "documentary" days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

This is about as un-democratic as it gets. If Sinclair is allowed to run this as a "documentary" we will end up with another compromised election. If it is allowed at all, label it what it is ... a paid political ad that needs to meet the fairness doctrine with the opposition allowed equal time IMMEDIATELY before or afterwards.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Thank you for allowing the PUBLIC to comment on a PUBLIC airwaves policy issue.
